The Economic Pulse of the World

Citizens in 24 Countries Assess the Current State of their Country's Economy for a Total Global Perspective

These are the findings of the Global @dvisor Wave 74 (G@74), an Ipsos survey conducted between Sept 25th to Oct 9th , 2015.

- The survey instrument is conducted monthly in 24 countries around the world via the Ipsos Online Panel system. The countries reporting herein are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, France, Great Britain, Germany, Hungary, India, Israel, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Poland, Russia, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, Turkey and the United States of America.
- For the results of the survey presented herein, an international sample of 17,748 adults aged 18-64 in the US, Israel and Canada, and age 16-64 in all other countries, were interviewed. Approximately 1000+ individuals participated on a country by country basis via the Ipsos Online Panel with the exception of Argentina, Belgium, Hungary, Israel, Mexico, Poland, Russia, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, South Korea, Sweden, Thailand and Turkey, where each have a sample approximately 500+. The precision of Ipsos online polls are calculated using a credibility interval with a poll of 1,000 accurate to +/- 3.5 percentage points and of 500 accurate to +/- 5.0 percentage points. For more information on the Ipsos use of credibility intervals, please visit the Ipsos website.
- In countries where internet penetration is approximately 60% or higher the data output is comparable the general population. Of the 24 countries surveyed online, 16 yield results that are balanced to reflect the general population: Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Canada, France, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Israel, Japan, Poland, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, United Kingdom and United States. The eight remaining countries surveyed –Brazil (53% Internet penetration among the citizenry), China (46%), India (19%), Mexico (41%), Russia (59%), Saudi Arabia (59%), South Africa (47%) and Turkey (47%)—have lower levels of connectivity therefore are not reflective of the general population; however, the online sample in these countries are particularly valuable in their own right as they are more urban/educated/income than their fellow citizens and are often referred to as “Upper Deck Consumer Citizens”.

Analytic Components...

- There are three analytic components that make up the findings of this monthly Economic Pulse report. Each question is tracked and analyzed from questions dealing with:

① The currently perceived macroeconomic state of the respondent's country:

- Thinking about our economic situation, how would you describe the current economic situation in [insert country]? Is it very good, somewhat good, somewhat bad or very bad?

② The currently perceived state of the local economy:

- Rate the current state of the economy in your local area using a scale from 1 to 7, where 7 means a very strong economy today and 1 means a very weak economy.

③ A six month outlook for the local economy:

- Looking ahead six months from now, do you expect the economy in your local area to be much stronger, somewhat stronger, about the same, somewhat weaker, or much weaker than it is now?

Cautious Optimism for the Future

- After a dismal showing for all index assessment categories last month, things are looking better this time around, with two out of three assessments improving compared to last wave.
- The national economic assessment index remains unchanged, with four in 10 (39%) respondents rating the state of their national economy as “good”. Despite no movement for the overall score, some of the major players have experienced improvement in this category: Saudi Arabia (90%, +3 pts.), India (82%, +3 pts.) and China (69%, +1 pts.).
- After last month's two point decline, the local economic assessment is up one point, as three in 10 (30%) global citizens rate the economy in their local area as “strong”. Gains in this assessment category are primarily driven by member countries of BRIC (37%, +2 pts), Middle East/Africa (40%, +2 pts.) and LATAM (18%, +4 pts.). In particular, the gains are experienced by: Mexico (19%, + 9pts.), Saudi Arabia (65%, +5 pts.), China (54%, +5 pts.), Argentina (22%, +2 pts.) and Brazil (14%, +2 pts.).
- Breaking out of a three-month long downward trend, the future local economic assessment is up two points since last sounding, with one quarter (24%) of respondents expecting the economy in their local area to become stronger in the next six months. Latin American countries, in particular Mexico (41%, +19 pts.) and Argentina (42%, +7 pts.), show the greatest improvement in this category.
