

Is Your Workplace GETTING TO YOU?

Those who agree that their current workplace is a psychologically safe and healthy environment are...

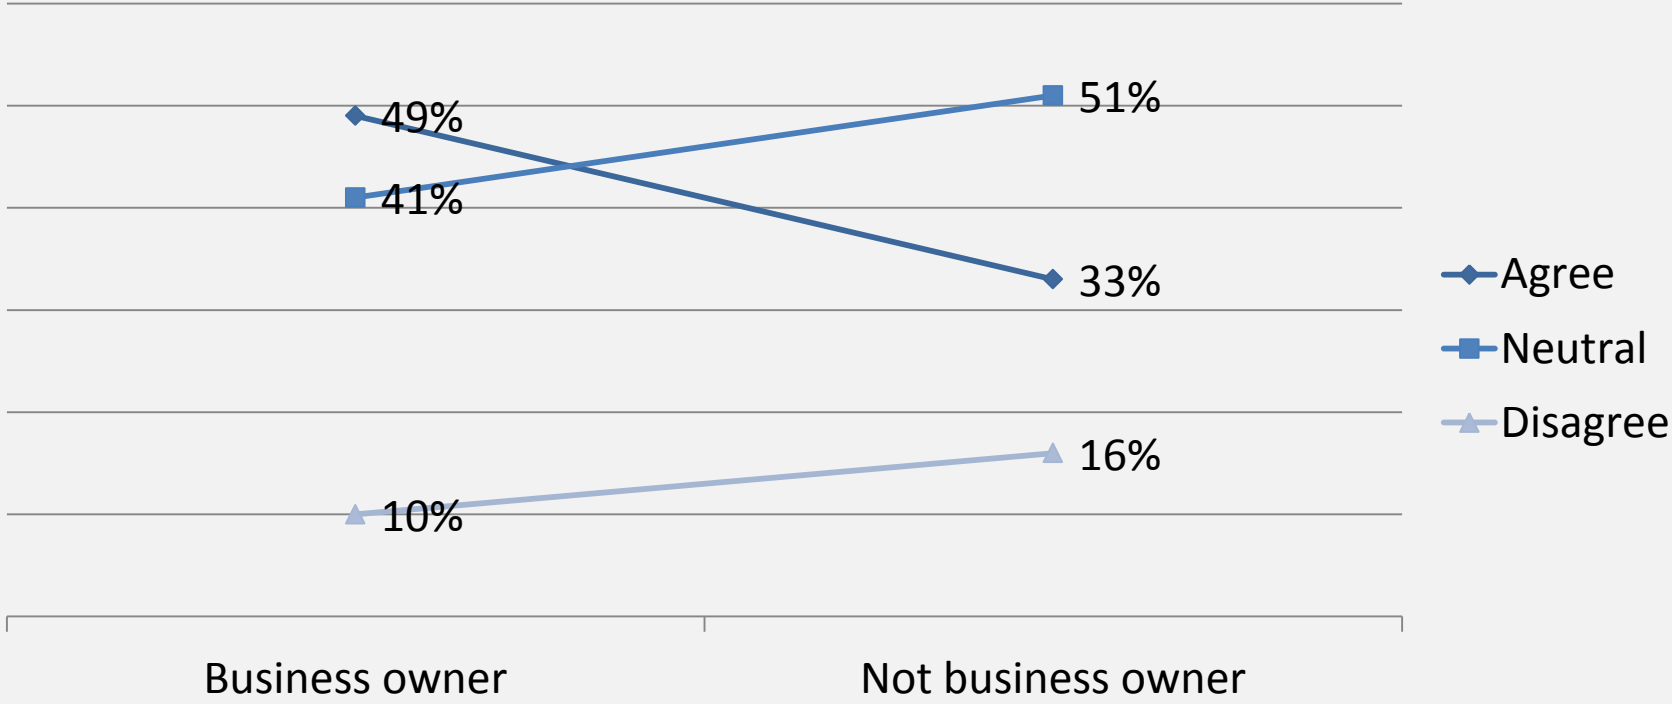

...more likely to be from the Americas

...more likely to have a higher level of education

...more likely to be their own bosses

We've asked this question before: yearly dynamics

All Global @dvisor countries at a glance

India and Mexico ranked highest of the 25 nation workplaces to have the psychologically healthiest workplaces, according to employees in those countries. South Korea and Japan gave their workplaces the lowest marks .
