Ipsos launches Creative|Spark AI, an ad testing solution generating actionable insights within minutes

Paris, July 18, 2024 – Ipsos, one of the world's leading market research companies, announces the launch of Creative|Spark AI, an ad evaluation solution to predict human reactions to linear and social videos, delivering actionable insights within minutes.

It leverages the combined power of Human Intelligence and Artificial Intelligence to boost creative effectiveness. The AI advertising prediction model is built on the foundation of Ipsos' signature creative assessment solution, Creative|Spark, and incorporates the past 5 years of Ipsos' validated creative database, based on 18,000 human response cases. Powered on Ipsos Facto, our secure Gen AI platform, it allows brands to understand the likely human response to their advertising.

"Creative|Spark AI is designed for advertisers seeking greater value and learning from their assets, especially those constrained by budget and timing. It is particularly beneficial given the significant spend on social media advertising, helping advertisers evaluate their assets and identify areas for improvement, whether it's one, or hundreds of creative in as little as 15 minutes" said Shaun Dix, Ipsos' Global Leader of Creative Excellence.

Creative|Spark AI is available in the US as self-service on the Ipsos Digital platform or through full service with Ipsos' Creative Excellence teams. Additional markets will be deployed throughout 2024.
