

Ipsos MORI Coronavirus polling

December 2020

Opinion towards increasing Universal Credit by £20

More people are claiming Universal Credit benefit because they have lost their job or had their pay reduced during the Covid-19 pandemic. In response, the government has increased Universal Credit payment by £20 per week for one year at a cost of £9 billion. To what extent do you agree, or disagree, with this £20 per week increase for one year?

Among all

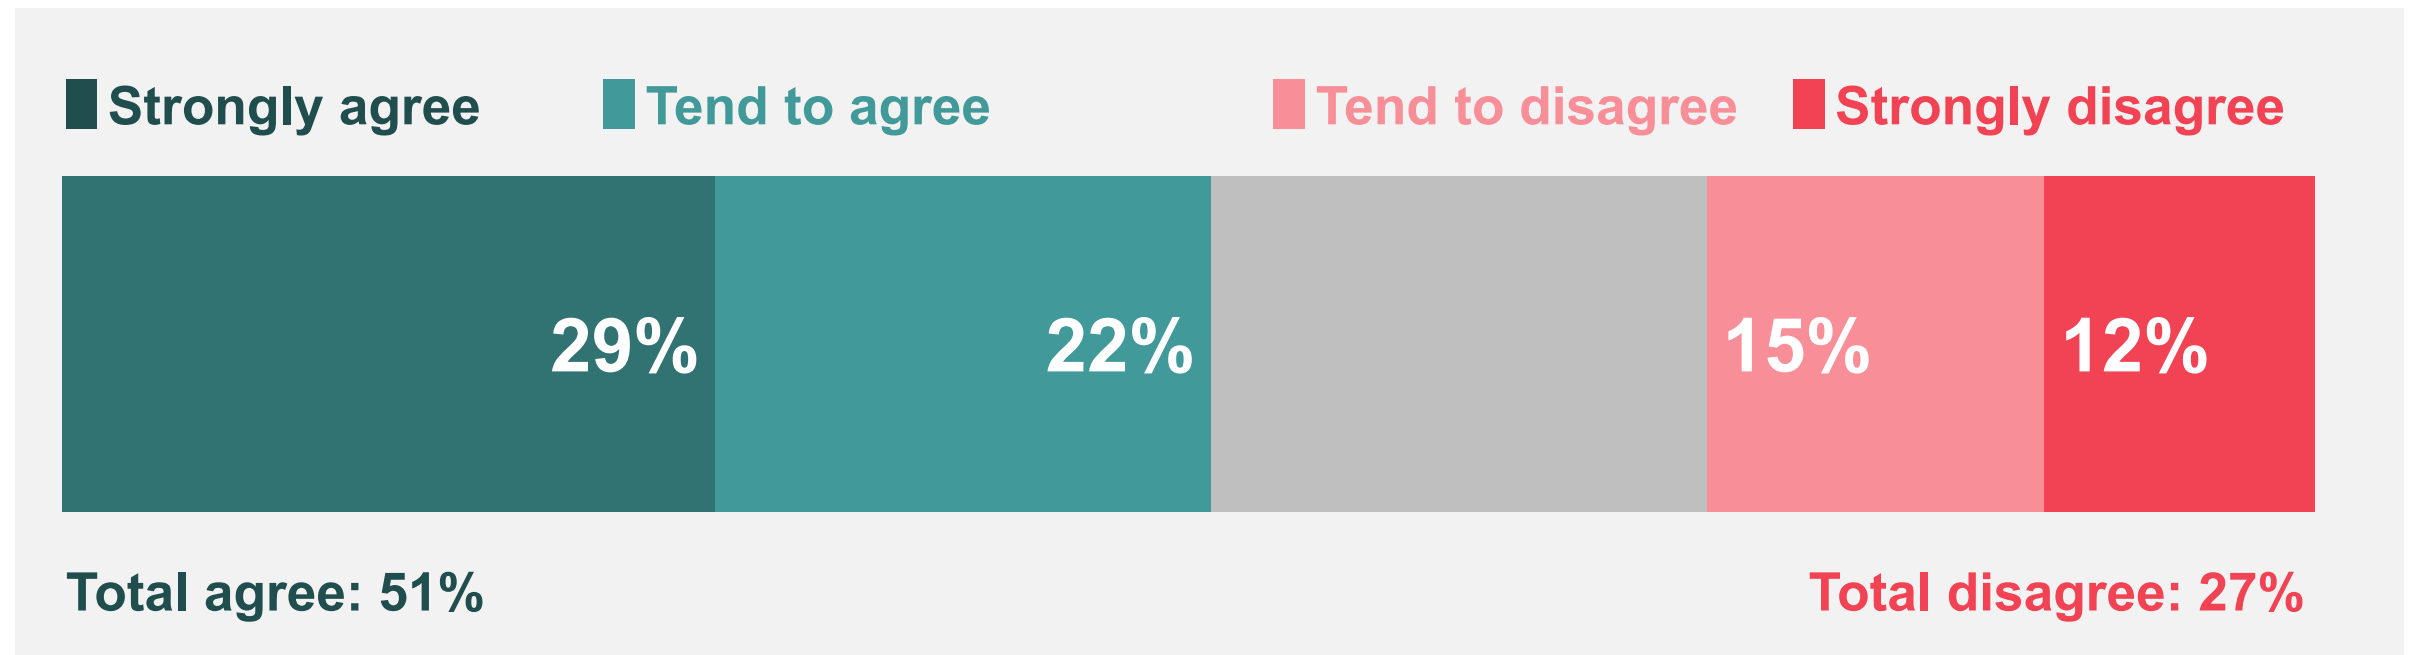

Base: 1,010 Online British adults 18-75, 11 December 2020

Opinion towards permanently increasing Universal Credit by £20

Still thinking about the increased Universal Credit payment, some people think this extra £20 per week should be permanent. To what extent do you agree, or disagree, with that?

Among all

Base: 1,010 Online British adults 18-75, 11 December 2020

Ipsos MORI

Coronavirus Polling December 2020

For more information

Kelly Beaver
Managing Director
kelly.beaver@ipsos.com

Keiran Pedley
Research Director
keiran.pedley@ipsos.com

Gideon Skinner
Research Director
gideon.skinner@ipsos.com

Cameron Garrett
Senior Research Executive
cameron.garrett@ipsos.com