IPSOS UK Economy polling November 2022

vanas unannamenteine.

One in three think Jeremy Hunt will make no difference to Britain's economy or that he will make it worse, while a fifth say better

From what you've seen or heard, if anything, about Jeremy Hunt since he became Chancellor of the Exchequer do you think he...?

Better

No difference Worse Don't know

... will change Britain's economy for?

Base: 1,086 Online British adults aged 18-75, 11-14 November 2022

Support for potential economic policies in this week's Autumn Statement

As you may know, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Jeremy Hunt, will be making an Autumn Statement next Thursday, in which it is expected he will announce measures to reduce government debt by raising more money through taxes or reducing public spending. To what extent, if at all, would you support or oppose each of the following potential polices being implemented?

	Support
Raising the energy windfall tax on profits earned by oil and gas companies from 25% to 30%		71%	10%
Increasing the amount raised in income tax by increasing the top rate of tax from 45% to 50% for earnings over £150,000		64%	15%
Keeping overseas aid at 0.5% of GDP instead of raising it back to 0.7% as planned		60%	16%
Increasing the amount raised in income tax by lowering the threshold for paying 45% tax from earnings £150k+ to £140k+		57%	15%
Increasing the amount raised in income tax by freezing the threshold for paying 40% tax at earnings above £52,270 until 2028	42%		20%
Increasing the amount raised in inheritance tax by freezing the threshold for paying it at £325,000 until 2028	40%		26%
Not raising benefit payments next year as much as inflation	31%	47%
Cut back government spending on major infrastructure projects	30%	37%
3 © Ipsos November 2022 Public	Base: 1,086 Online British adults aged 18-75, 11-14 November 2022

Support for potential economic policies in this week's Autumn Statement

As you may know, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Jeremy Hunt, will be making an Autumn Statement next Thursday, in which it is expected he will announce measures to reduce government debt by raising more money through taxes or reducing public spending. To what extent, if at all, would you support or oppose each of the following potential polices being implemented?

Support
29	33%
289	% 43%
20%	53%
19%	52%
18%	54%
16%	64%
12%	70%
	29 28 20% 19% 18%

Base: 1,086 Online British adults aged 18-75, 11-14 November 2022

Ipsos UK

November 2022

For more information

Gideon Skinner Research Director gideon.skinner@ipsos.com Cameron Garrett Research Manager cameron.garrett@ipsos.com

Keiran Pedley Research Director keiran.pedley@ipsos.com Ben Roff Research Executive ben.roff@ipsos.com

