

PUBLIC PERCEPTION IN LEBANON

In a nation adapting under pressure, how are individuals navigating uncertainty?

54%

of Lebanese people report that the current conflict has significantly disrupted their lives.

Source: Ipsos in Lebanon - Public Perception In Lebanon: In a nation adapting under pressure, how are individuals navigating uncertainty? (International Social & Development Research)

81%

expect the situation to worsen in the coming weeks, a sentiment consistently observed across all regions.

Source: Ipsos in Lebanon - Public Perception In Lebanon: In a nation adapting under pressure, how are individuals navigating uncertainty? (International Social & Development Research)

Intentions to leave the country are notable

32%

Not considering emigration

39%*

Open to the idea

29%*

Considering or planning to leave

A majority (68%)* are either open to the idea or already considering or planning to leave.

Source: Ipsos in Lebanon - Public Perception In Lebanon: In a nation adapting under pressure, how are individuals navigating uncertainty? (International Social & Development Research)

Displacement is widespread

1 in 4

(24%)

Report having been displaced
due to the current situation

Source: Ipsos in Lebanon - Public Perception In Lebanon: In a nation adapting under pressure, how are individuals navigating uncertainty?
(International Social & Development Research)

The current situation is driving widespread financial tightening

63%

Are reducing their spending

47%

Are delaying major purchases

Source: Ipsos in Lebanon - Public Perception In Lebanon: In a nation adapting under pressure, how are individuals navigating uncertainty?
(International Social & Development Research)

CHECK OUT THE FULL REPORT

LINK IN CAPTION

For more information:

Pamela Hindi

Research Manager - PA Service Line Leader
Ipsos in Lebanon
Pamela.Hindi@ipsos.com

Ghiwa Mouawad

Research Manager - MSU Service Line Leader
Ipsos in Lebanon
Ghiwa.Mouawad@ipsos.com

