

A majority of Britons believe immigration has had a bad impact on the NHS but are split when it comes to Britain as a whole, culture in Britain and the area in which they live

Overall, would you say that EU immigration has been good or bad, or has had no impact on the following....

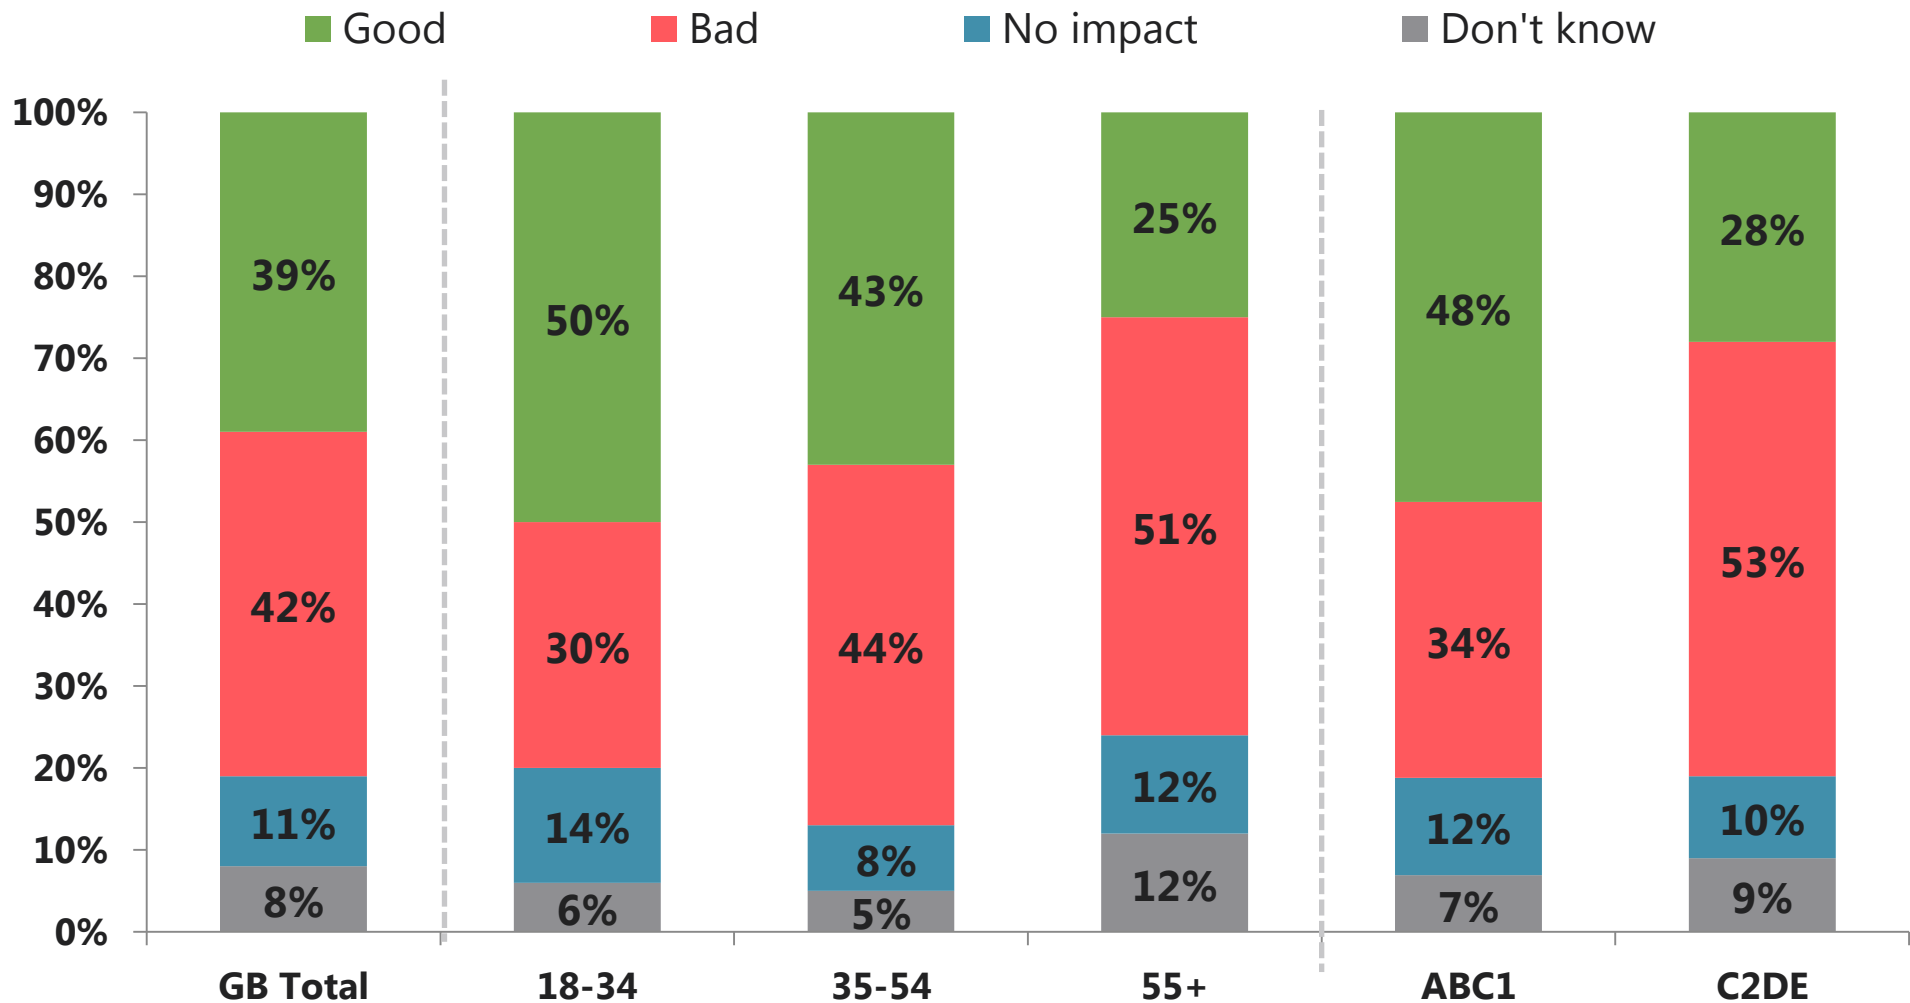

Over six in ten Leave voters thinks immigration has had a bad impact on Britain compared with one in five Remain voters

Overall, would you say that EU immigration has been good or bad, or has had no impact on the following.... Britain as a whole

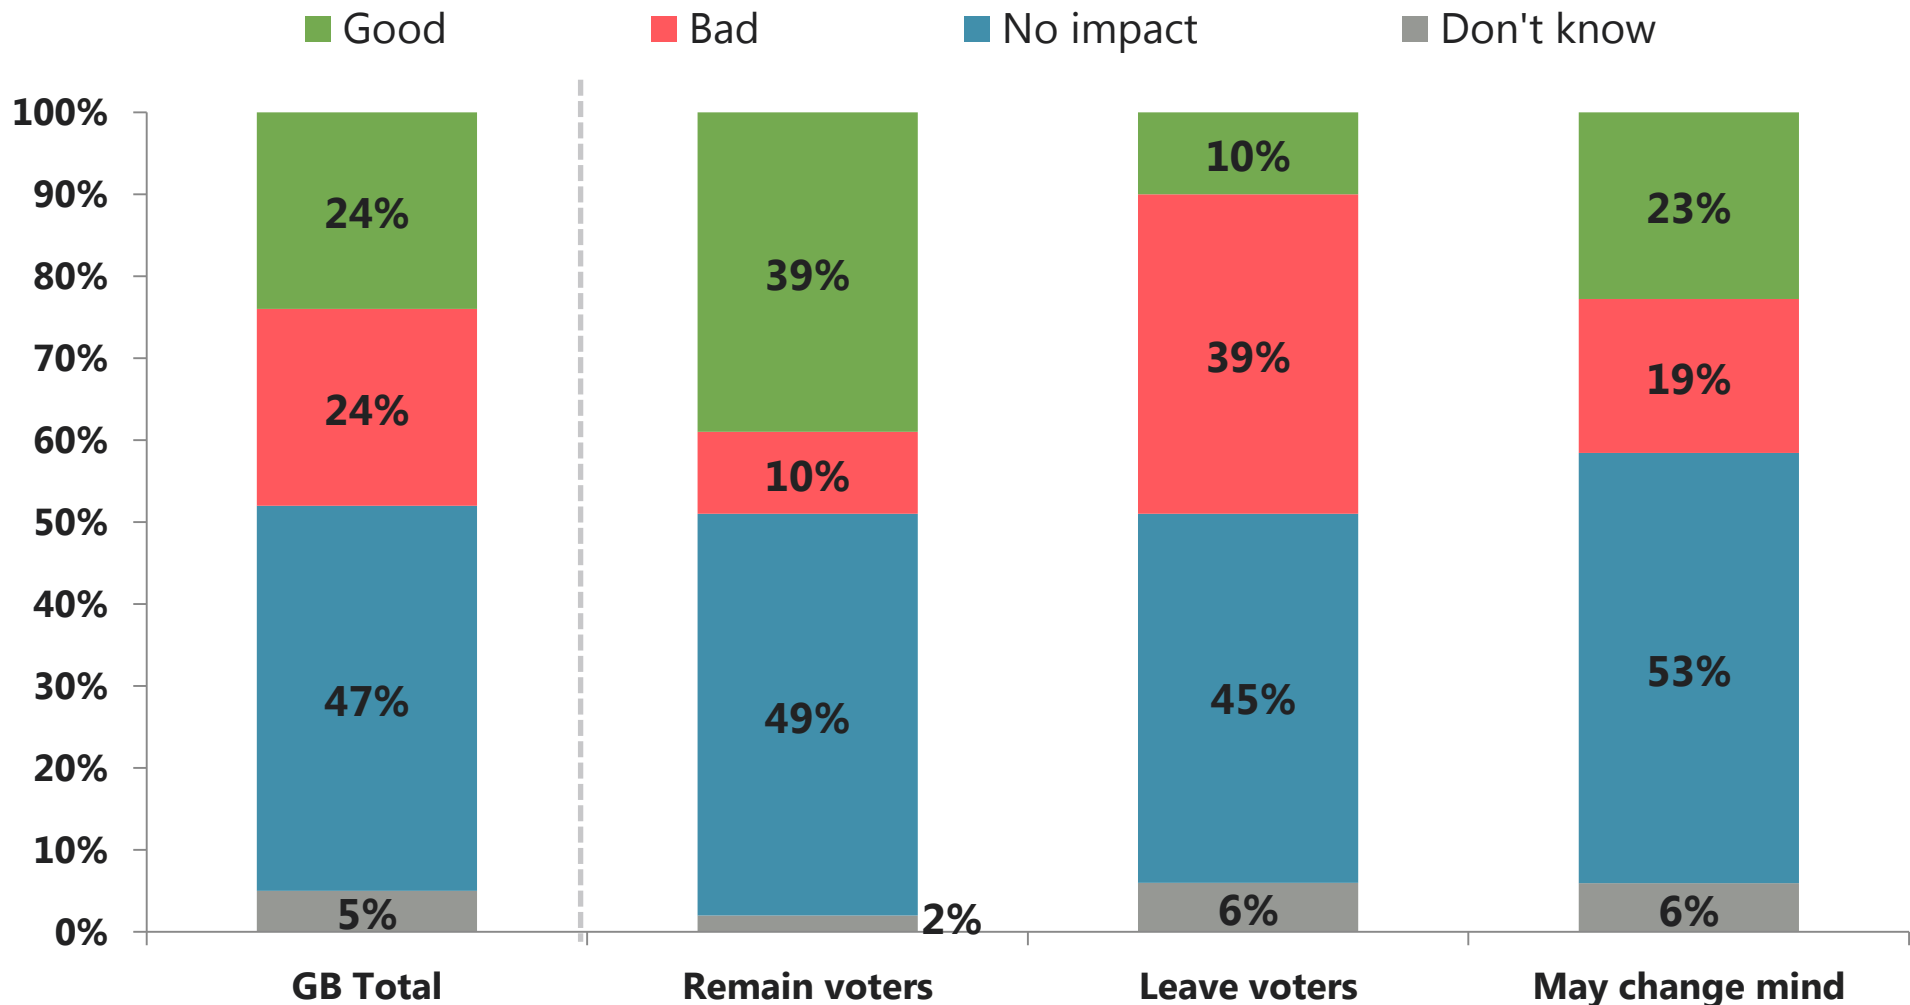

Older age groups and C2DEs are most likely to see EU immigration as having a bad impact on Britain

Overall, would you say that EU immigration has been good or bad, or has had no impact on the following.... Britain as a whole

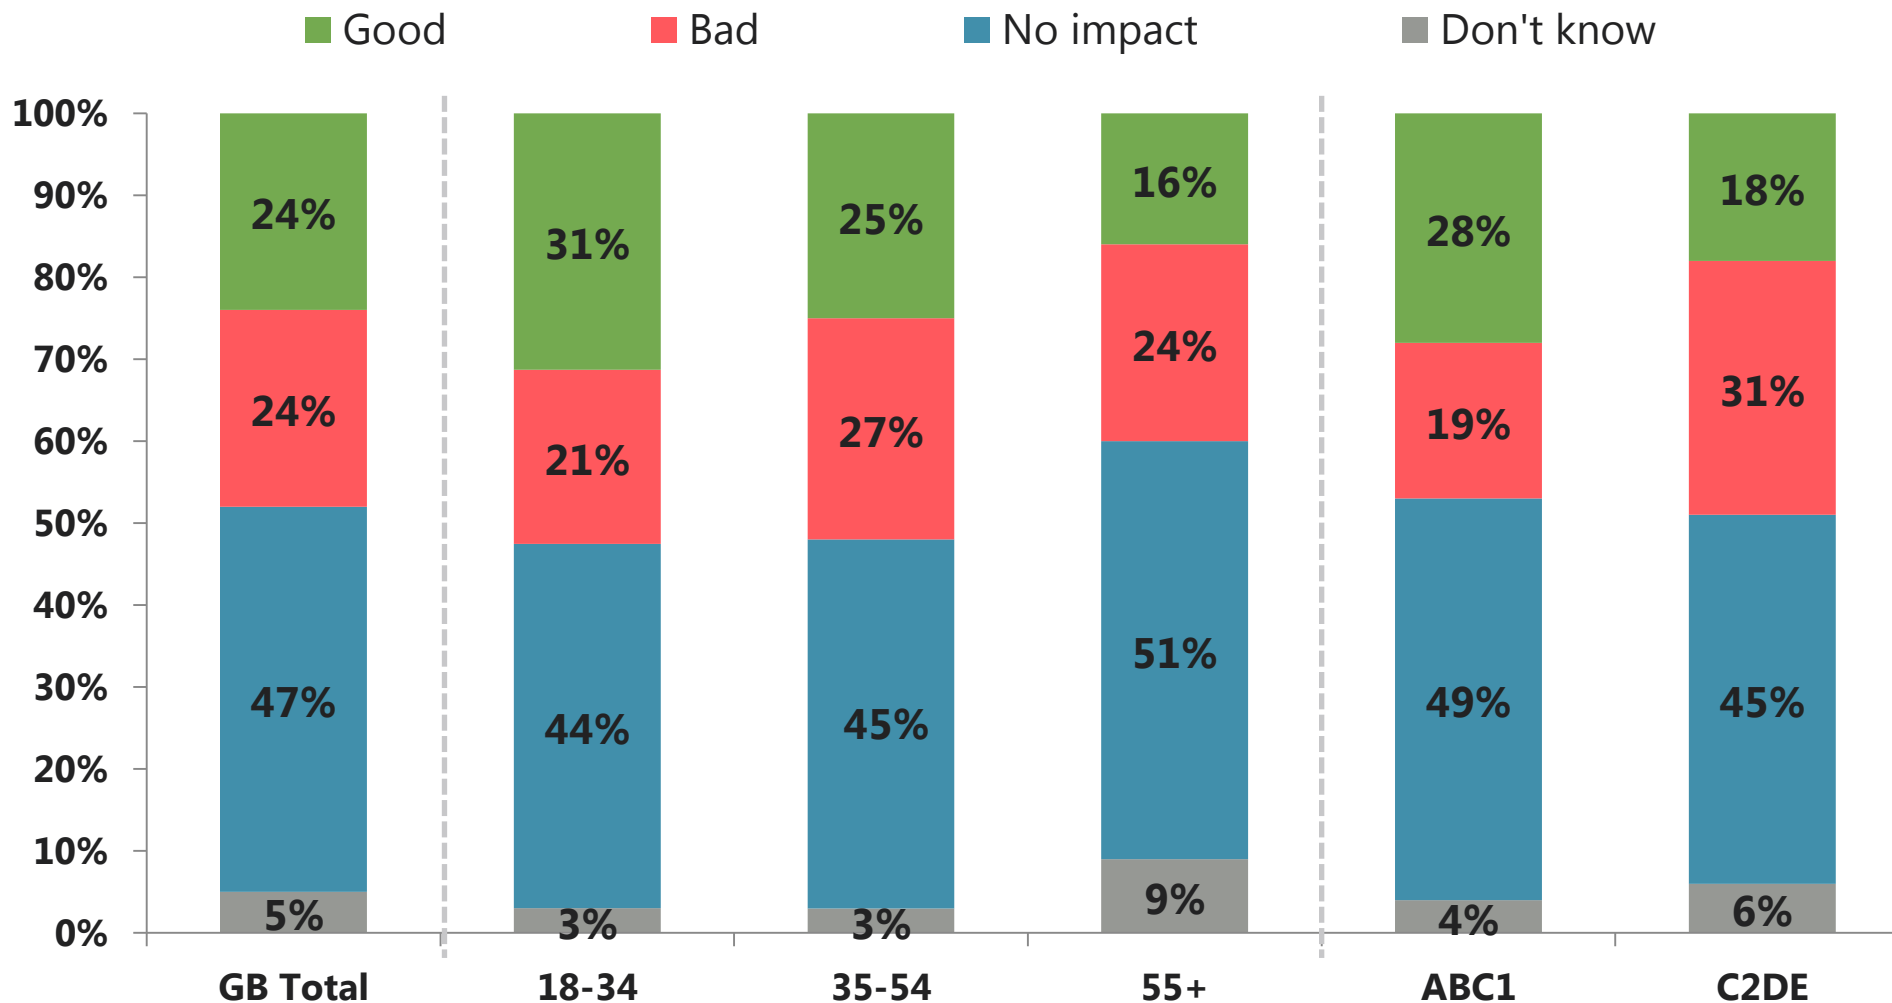

But half say immigration has had no impact where they live although Leave voters are more likely to say it's had a bad impact

Overall, would you say that EU immigration has been good or bad, or has had no impact on the following.... The area where you live

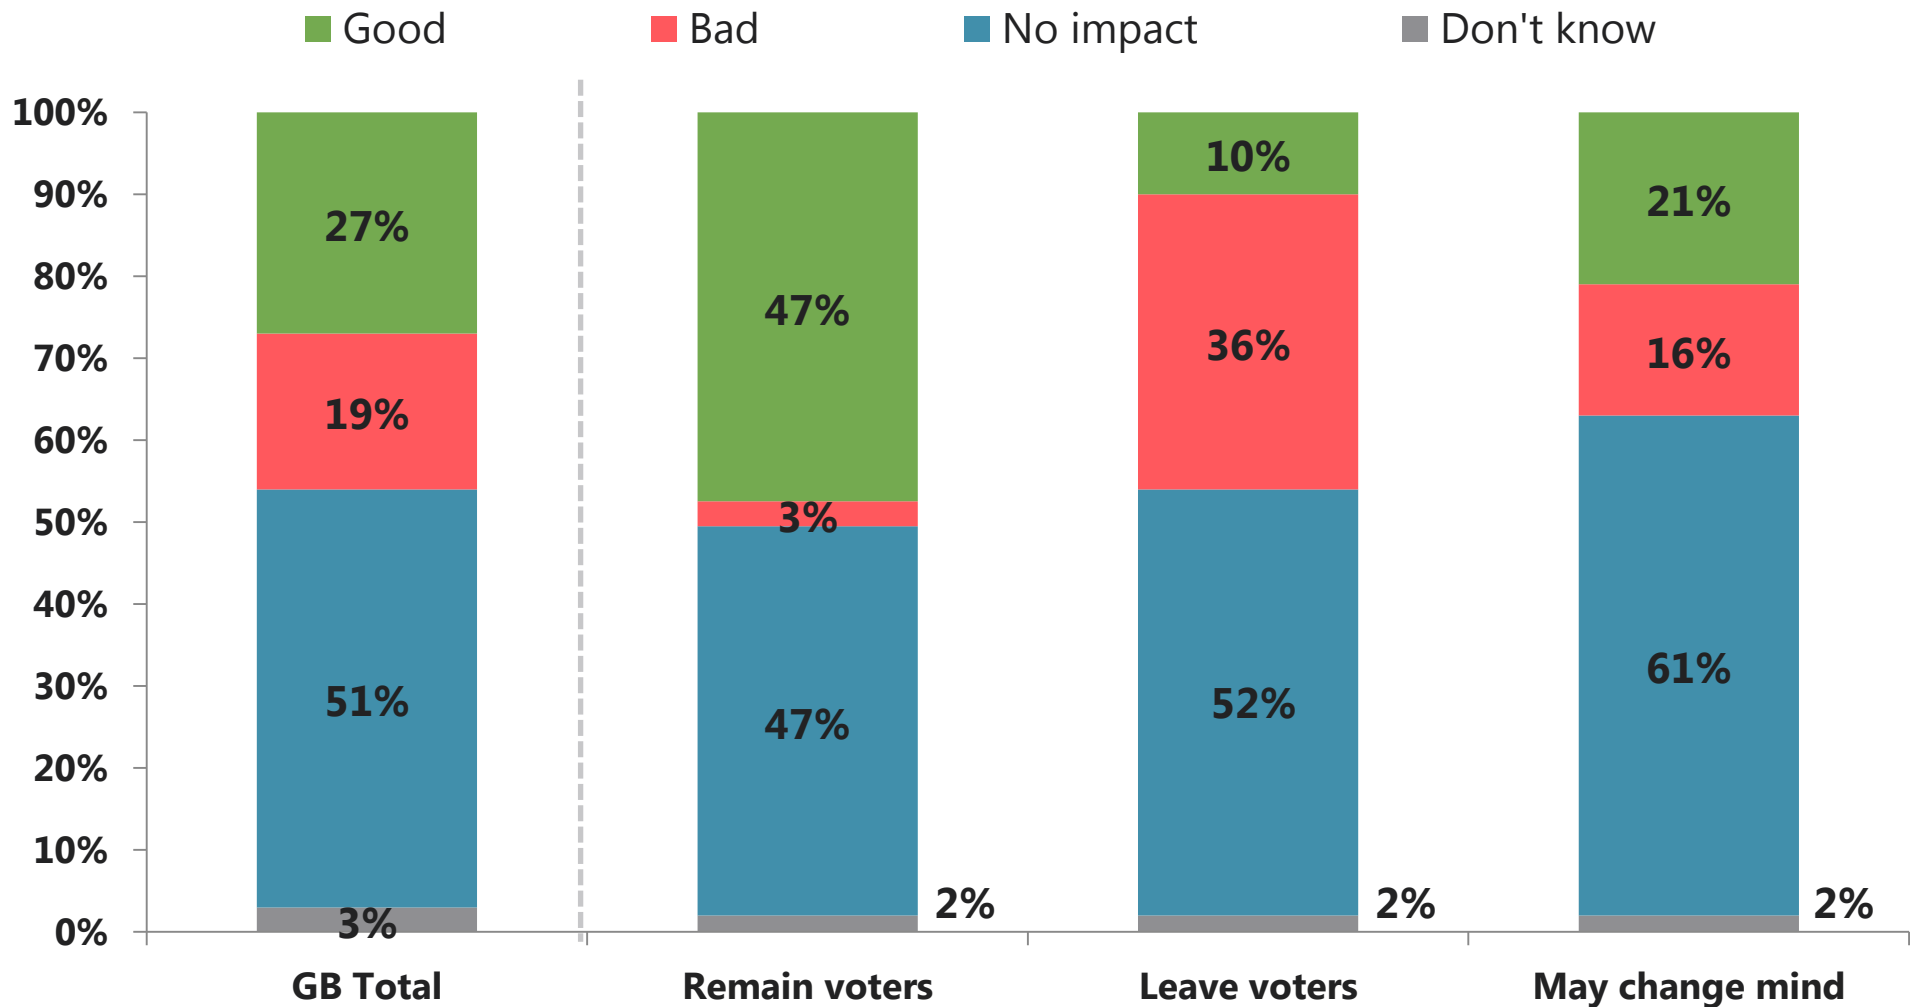

Twice as many 18-34 year olds think immigration has been good for their area than those aged over 55

Overall, would you say that EU immigration has been good or bad, or has had no impact on the following.... The area where you live

While most say immigration has had no impact on them personally, Remain voters are much more likely to say the impact has been good

Overall, would you say that EU immigration has been good or bad, or has had no impact on the following.... You personally

And older people more likely to say immigration has had no impact compared with younger people

Overall, would you say that EU immigration has been good or bad, or has had no impact on the following.... You personally

