East of England Palliative and End of Life Care

Topline Results 10-002265-01 5th August 2010

- This topline presents the results of a postal survey mailed out to addresses randomly selected from the Small User Postcode Address File (PAF)
- A sample of 2,500 addresses was selected in the East of England SHA area.
- A sample of 1,250 addresses was selected from the rest of England in order to provide a comparison to the East of England results.
- An initial mailing was sent on 26th March to 500 addresses in the East of England SHA area, before the purdah period associated with the May 6th General Election. The remaining 2,000 addresses in the East and 1,250 addresses across the rest of the country were mailed out on 18th May.
- Reminder letters were sent to those addresses from which no response had been received on 8th June and 29th June.
- Weighting has been applied to both sets of data so that it better reflects the known profile of the population. The East of England results are weighted by age, gender, working status and Primary Care Trust. The results from the rest of the country have been weighted separately on age, gender, working status and Government Office Region.
- Unless otherwise specified, all East of England data is based on 693 responses and all data for the rest of England is based on 332 responses.
- Where results do not sum to 100%, this may be due to multiple responses or computer rounding.
- For bases smaller than 30, the number of responses (n.) is given instead of the percentage (%). Where the base is smaller than 30 for only one of the two samples, we have presented both (East of England and Rest of England) as a numerical count in order to make comparison between the two easier.
- In the open ended questions at Q6, Q8 and Q10 the results have been broken down based on the answer given at the previous question. For example, the answers to question 6 are split between those who said the medical and nursing care received was very good/good and those who said it was very poor/poor. Some of the responses appear at odds with the answer to the previous question. However, this largely due to respondents giving multiple or detailed responses. For example, the care overall was very good but the GP was not very good.
