

Global @dvisor

The Economic Pulse of the World

Citizens in 25 Countries Assess the Current State of their Country's Economy for a Total Global Perspective

These are the findings of the Global @dvisor Wave 57 (G@57), an Ipsos survey conducted between May 6th to May 20th , 2014.

- The survey instrument Global @dvisor is conducted monthly in 25 countries via the Ipsos Online Panel system.
- For the results of the survey herein, an total sample of 19,242 adults age 18-64 in the US and Canada, and age 16-64 in all other countries, was interviewed between April 1st to April 15th 2014. Approximately 1000+ individuals were surveyed in Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, France, Germany, Great Britain, India, Italy, Japan, Spain, and the United States of America. Approximately 500+ individuals were surveyed in Argentina, Belgium, Hungary, Indonesia, Mexico, Poland, Romania, Russia, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, South Korea, Sweden and Turkey.
- In countries where internet penetration is approximately 60% or higher the data output is comparable the general population. Of the 25 countries surveyed online, 15 yield results that are balanced to reflect the general population: Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Canada, France, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Japan, Poland, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, United Kingdom and United States. The ten remaining countries surveyed –Brazil (45.6% Internet penetration among the citizenry), China (41%), India (11.4%), Indonesia (22.1%), Mexico (36.5%), Romania (44.1%), Russia (47.7%), Saudi Arabia (49%), South Africa (17.4%) and Turkey (45.7%)—have lower levels of connectivity therefore are not reflective of the general population; however, the online sample in these countries are particularly valuable in their own right as they are more urban/educated/income than their fellow citizens and are often referred to as “Upper Deck Consumer Citizens”.
- The precision of Ipsos online polls are calculated using a credibility interval with a poll of 1,000 accurate to +/- 3.5 percentage points and of 500 accurate to +/- 5.0 percentage points. For more information on the Ipsos use of credibility intervals, please visit the Ipsos website.

Analytic Components...

- There are three analytic components that make up the findings of this monthly Economic Pulse report. Each question is tracked and analyzed from questions dealing with:

① The currently perceived macroeconomic state of the respondent's country:

- Thinking about our economic situation, how would you describe the current economic situation in [insert country]? Is it very good, somewhat good, somewhat bad or very bad?

② The currently perceived state of the local economy:

- Rate the current state of the economy in your local area using a scale from 1 to 7, where 7 means a very strong economy today and 1 means a very weak economy.

③ A six month outlook for the local economy:

- Looking ahead six months from now, do you expect the economy in your local area to be much stronger, somewhat stronger, about the same, somewhat weaker, or much weaker than it is now?

Global Economic Pulse Welcomes Romania This Month

- While four in ten (39%) of respondents around the world rate their national economies as 'good', only one in ten (10%) respondents in Romania think the same of their national economy.
- One in ten Romanians (12%) agree that the economy in their local area is "good" compared to the global average of 29%.
- The future economic outlook is a little more optimistic as two in ten (17%) Romanian citizens expect their local economy will be stronger six months from now compared to the global average of 25%.

- Dorian Cazacu, Head of Quantitative Ipsos Research Romania:

"In Romania, official sources indicate a slowdown – if not the bitter end – of the financial & economic crisis, while on the other hand purchase power appears to erode and consumer confidence is lowest among European Union. Although the crisis might approach its end, the effects will still linger for years to come – this is the key conclusion derived from most of the surveys conducted by Ipsos in Romania. In 2014, financial scarcity remains a key concern for Romanians, amplified by populist speeches delivered on the background of the election year."

This line chart displays the projected annual percentage increase in real GDP for seven major regions over a five-year period from March 2010 to May 2014. The vertical axis measures the growth rate as a percentage, ranging from 10% to 55%. Each region is represented by a distinct color-coded line with diamond-shaped markers at each monthly projection point.

The legend identifies the following regions:

- North America: Blue line with diamonds.
- LATAM: Green line with triangles pointing up.
- Europe: Light blue line with triangles pointing right.
- APAC: Purple line with squares.
- G-8 Countries: Yellow line with squares.
- BRIC: Red line with circles.
- Middle East/Africa: Brown line with squares.

Key observations from the chart include:

- BRIC Region: Shows the highest initial growth projections, starting around 46% in early 2010, peaking near 50%, and ending its series around mid-2013 at approximately 36%.
- Middle East/Africa: Exhibits significant volatility throughout the period, with peaks reaching nearly 50% in late 2011 before declining towards 41% by May 2014.
- North America: Maintains relatively stable growth projections between 32% and 37% until late 2012, after which it shows a slight upward trend, finishing at about 35%.
- LATAM: Starts low at 21%, rises sharply to 25% by April 2010, and remains fairly steady thereafter, ending at approximately 28%.
- Europe: Growth projections are generally lower than other regions, fluctuating mostly between 19% and 24%.
- APAC: Shows moderate growth projections, staying consistently between 28% and 33%.
- G-8 Countries: Represents the lowest overall group of growth projections, hovering primarily between 20% and 24%.

- Ipsos is an independent market research company controlled and managed by research professionals. Founded in France in 1975, Ipsos has grown into a worldwide research group with a strong presence in all key markets. In October 2011 Ipsos completed the acquisition of Synovate. The combination forms the world's third largest market research company.
- With offices in 85 countries, Ipsos delivers insightful expertise across six research specializations: advertising, customer loyalty, marketing, media, public affairs research, and survey management.
- Ipsos researchers assess market potential and interpret market trends. They develop and build brands. They help clients build long-term relationships with their customers. They test advertising and study audience responses to various media and they measure public opinion around the globe.
- Ipsos has been listed on the Paris Stock Exchange since 1999 and generated global revenues of €1,789 billion (2.300 billion USD) in 2012.
