

As you may have heard, a female Canadian sprinter at the world track and field championships in Edmonton has tested positive for using a banned drug. Governments and regulatory bodies have undertaken many initiatives on this front since the Ben Johnson scandal at the 1988 Olympics. Now, suppose that an elite amateur athlete in this country wins a competition. Compared to how you felt 10 years ago, how confident are you that this victorious Canadian athlete is totally drug-free? Are you :

		REGION						AGE			GENDER
	Total	BC	AB	SK/MN	ON	QC	Atl	18-34	35-54	55+	Male	Female
Base: All respondents
Unweighted Base	1000	150	100	100	300	250	100	307	446	231	500	500
Weighted Base	1000	130	90	70	377	251	81	337	377	272	490	510
More confident than 10 years ago	26%	21%	20%	31%	27%	26%	28%	23%	29%	24%	29%	22%
About the same	34%	31%	30%	26%	35%	33%	47%	33%	36%	34%	34%	34%
Less confident than 10 years ago	37%	43%	49%	41%	36%	37%	21%	42%	33%	38%	35%	40%
(DK/NS)	3%	4%	1%	3%	2%	4%	3%	3%	2%	4%	2%	3%