

The Federal Government wishes to repair the relationship between Canada and the U.S. that has been hurt by differences of opinion on measures to deal with terrorism and the War in Iraq. I am going to read a number of statements about Canada's future. For each one, I'd like you to tell me if you strongly agree, somewhat agree, somewhat disagree or strongly disagree with it: Canada should actively support the Bush administration's missile defence system even if it may require dedicating military spending to the program or allowing US missile launchers in Canada. ?
