2. The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child lists the rights to which every child is entitled, these include the right to survival, the right to the development of their full physical and mental potential, the right to protection from influences that are harmful to their development and the right to participation in family, cultural and social life. The Convention protects these rights by setting minimum standards that governments must meet in securing the rights of children. 192 countries, including Canada, have ratified this convention. Now I am going to read you a series of statements and I'd like you to tell me whether or not you agree with each one: 1) Children's Rights should be in addition to and distinct from Human Rights ?
