9	4. Some say that the bill modernizes Canadian criminal law by giving police long-awaited technological capabilities to catch online criminals, such as creators of child pornography and hackers. Others say C-30 is an invasion of the Canadian Charter right to personal privacy and that the police and government would have too much power to snoop on the public. Which is closer to your point of view?

4. Some say that the bill modernizes Canadian criminal law by giving police long-awaited technological capabilities to catch online criminals, such as creators of child pornography and hackers. Others say C-30 is an invasion of the Canadian Charter right to personal privacy and that the police and government would have too much power to snoop on the public. Which is closer to your point of view?
