

TRY US ON: OUR SUMMER INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

We invite college and graduate students to apply for our Summer Internship Program, which gives agile, intelligent and motivated people a chance to try Market Research and Ipsos on for size.

In addition to gaining some practical work experience, you will learn about our research specialties, get to know our staff and management, and take part in weekly training sessions. Plus, you will get an opportunity to earn an inside track to a full-time job at Ipsos once you graduate.

'The internship provided me with the opportunity to learn not just how Ipsos operates as a company but also what the industry looks like and what it offers. I was able to work on a wide breadth of clients and type of work, which opened my eyes further to the ground that Market Research covers and the important role it plays in our everyday lives.'
